Managing Self-Doubt

Sometimes, the people who seem most confident and capable are privately filled with self-doubt and struggling with anxiety. While some doubt is healthy – never doubting oneself reflects lack of self-awareness and incompetence – but for some, self-doubt is crippling. Research suggests that people with a self-doubting mindset tend to cope in one of two ways: ‘self-handicapping’ and ‘subjective overachievement’. While self-handicappers tend to underperform (“I didn’t try so I can’t really fail”), subjective-overachievers take extraordinary measures to guarantee success (e.g., working long hours, perfectionism, always assuming others are better/smarter) – and then attribute any success to effort alone. This kind of self-doubt is common in secondary school and tertiary students.

Dr Patrick Carroll of Ohio State University has found that many subjective overachievers are very good at hiding their anxiety, thus others are rarely aware of their inner turmoil. And while it is a common phenomenon, constantly doubting one’s own capacity destroys confidence and limits learning – health problems flow from spikes in cortisol levels caused by stress and anxiety. Instead of exploring deep questions like, “Why?” and “What do I think about this?”, learning becomes a joyless process of finding the ‘right’ answer.

There are several strategies that can support and improve the wellbeing of self-doubting young people:

Change the meaning of doubt: Feeling confused, uncertain or doubtful is a normal response to challenge, not a sign of incompetence. Learning often feels hard and confusing – we need to reframe doubt, confusion and failure as normal.

Challenge the self-doubting thoughts: Encourage children to be critically reflective of their thought patterns. Is the way I see myself a thought or a fact? Would someone who is not good at Maths/English/Swimming achieve what I have achieved? Changing internal dialogue is important to overcoming and managing self-doubt.

Step back in time: Compare where you are now to where you were last year – remembering how far you’ve come can help provide confidence for the next step.

Focus on process, not results: Shift from ‘person praise’ (“You got an A! You’re so smart!”) to ‘process praise’ (“You were so persistent and dedicated to that assignment – well done!”). This can reinforce the idea that we can master things with hard work, and help learners get past the idea that a person either does or does not have innate ability.

Visualise your successful future self: Both self-handicappers and subjective overachievers tend to fixate on negative outcomes and anticipate failure. Instead, encourage learners to focus on their strengths and imagine their future self achieving a goal.

Bullying. No Way!

Across the College we aim to create a safe and supportive community for everyone. This week our College focused on the National Day against Bullying and Violence.

Bullying is an ongoing misuse of power in relationships through repeated verbal, physical and/or social behaviour that causes physical and/or psychological harm. It can involve an individual or a group misusing their power over one or more persons. Bullying can happen in person or online, and it can be obvious (overt) or hidden (covert).

Bullying of any form or for any reason can have long-term effects on those involved, including bystanders.

Single incidents and conflict or fights between equals, whether in person or online, are not defined as bullying.

Behaviours that do not constitute bullying include:

- mutual arguments and disagreements (where there is no power imbalance)
- not liking someone or a single act of social rejection
- one-off acts of meanness or spite
- isolated incidents of aggression, intimidation or violence.

However, these conflicts still need to be addressed and resolved. Sometimes, it can be difficult for parents or carers to know what to do when their child talks to them about bullying. However, you are an important part of our work to prevent bullying and to respond effectively if it happens. Stopping bullying involves everyone.

If your child talks to you about bullying:

1. Listen calmly and get the full story.
2. Reassure your child that they are not to blame.
3. Ask your child what they want to do about it and how you can help.
4. Visit www.bullyingnoway.gov.au to find some strategies.
5. Contact the school.
6. Check in regularly with your child.

If your child talks to you about bullying:

1. Listen calmly and get the full story. Your calm response is important to allow your child to tell you all about the situation. After they've told you their story, ask questions to get more details if you need to: who, what, where, when. Although you may feel some strong emotions about your child's experience, try to keep calm to avoid more distress to your child.
2. Reassure your child they are not to blame. Many children blame themselves and this may make them feel even worse. You could say things like, 'That sounds really hard to deal with. No one should have to put up with that.' or 'I'm so glad you told me. You should be able to feel safe at school; that's not fair at all'.

3. Ask your child what they want to do and what they want you to do. A critical part of your response is to avoid jumping in to solve the problem. While it is natural to want to protect your child, helping them to find their own solution is a better option. It helps them feel they have some power in the situation.
4. Visit www.bullyingnoway.gov.au to find some strategies. The website has tips and ideas for different bullying situations. One idea is to practise strategies at home to help your child feel more confident.
5. Contact WestMAC. Your child may be reluctant for you to do this, so discuss the idea and reassure them that the school would want to know and is able to help. Make an appointment to meet with your child's teacher and, if you need to, ask to talk with the Head of School. Contact the College immediately if you have a concern about your child's safety.
6. Check in regularly with your child. Keep the conversation going. It can take time to resolve issues, so check in regularly with your child about their experiences and their feelings. Your ongoing support is important.

If you are looking for support for yourself to deal with a bullying situation, you will find ideas on the Bullying. No Way! website for parents. As well, please contact your respective sub-schools if you would like to discuss any aspect of our approach to prevent bullying.

This week, various activities have occurred in recognition of the National Day against Bullying and Violence. These included:

- Junior School - Assembly presentation on Tuesday
- Middle School - activities during the lunch break on Friday
- Senior School - activities during SpiritED lessons on Thursday

Thanks for your support in making our College a great place for everyone.

Drop-off and Pick-up Zones REMINDER

Our College drop-off and pick-up areas are designed so that parents can quickly set-down and pick-up children. They create a safe environment for students and keep traffic moving.

Drop-off and pick-up areas are signed to indicate drivers' have a maximum of two minutes to drop-off or collect students.

When using the drop-off and pick-up areas drivers are asked to:

- use the area like a quick moving taxi rank
- move forward in the queue of vehicles within the signed area
- remain in their vehicle at all times
- observe the maximum two minute time - if your children are not ready to get straight into your vehicle at pick-up time, you will need to exit the carpark and re-enter the area again, and
- teach your children to look out for your vehicle and to get in quickly when you pull up – staff on duty will assist in reinforcing this message.

Drop-off and pick-up areas help to make school zones safe because:

- children are dropped-off and picked-up close to the school's entrance (so they do not need to cross any roads)
- they reduce traffic jams around the school (as parents and carers come and go faster than if they were to park and walk into the school grounds), and
- younger (non-school aged) children can stay in vehicles while their older siblings are dropped-off and picked-up—they do not need to walk, or be pushed or carried, to the school's entrance.

Chaplaincy

Holy Week and Easter@WestMAC

- Friday 23 March Junior Chapels will have an Easter theme, as the following Friday is Good Friday and the term finishes on Thursday 29 March. Middle School and Senior School chapels on Tuesday 27 March will have an Easter focus.
- Worship@WestMAC: Sunday 25 March is Palm Sunday and our service will take the form of a Messy Church.
- On Friday 30 March we have a Good Friday service at 9.30am. This family-friendly event is open to everyone. Hot cross buns will be served afterward.
- On Sunday 1 April representatives from St Paul's Ipswich, All Saint's Booval and St Thomas' North Ipswich will join us at the WestMAC chapel, at 6.30am, for The Service of Light, where the Easter Fire is lit and the Pascal (Easter) Candles are blessed. The parish representatives will then carry the Easter Light back to their churches for their own services. We will continue with our Easter Eucharist, including the renewal of Baptism vows and finish with morning tea (and coffee) worthy of the Resurrection. Come and share the celebration with us!

World's Greatest Shave

Yes, this time next week, it'll all be over bar the hairs stuck in awkward places. Next Friday 23 March, some intrepid students, a staff member and a parent will have their heads shaved to raise money to help support people living with blood cancer. One amazing Year 12 student will be cutting a significant chunk from her beautiful, long locks – enough to make two or three wigs for children living with cancer. Please go online and sponsor the WestMAC shave team.

On the day, there will be the opportunity for Years 5 to 12 students to have their hair coloured. They will need $5 and a signed permission form or a note in their diary. No permission and/or money = no colouring.

Our wonderful P&F will also be providing a sausage sizzle, should students wish to make a purchase. Prep to Year 4 students will stay at the JS campus and, depending on their age, either pay a donation to come to school with 'crazy hair' – I'm sure Ms Mullan will say more about that – or have their hair coloured in the undercover area.

We're also hoping to be able to start selling raffle tickets for a signed Reds jersey. This won't be drawn until the end of April, so plenty of time – watch this space for details.

The actual shave will take place at the chapel between 1.10 and 1.50pm. If there are parents or students interested in helping, let me know, I'd be happy to put you on the list.

I'll also be putting lots of little plaits in my hair, so people can pay to cut one off before the final shave. You may find students shaking tins/buckets for your donations as you come to school in the next week. Please pop something in if you can and, on the day, make sure you have a pocketful of change in order to take advantage of food and beverage opportunities.

If there are any hairdressers out there, who would be free on Friday 23 March and prepared to pitch in and help with the shaving/hair cutting, please drop me an email. We'd love for you to be involved. Now, if you'll excuse me, I have to buy a hat or two!

Blessings

2018 Next Step Survey

The Queensland Government is conducting its annual statewide survey of all students who completed Year 12 in 2017. The Next Step survey is a brief, confidential survey that gains a comprehensive picture of the employment, study and life choices made by Queensland school completers in the year after they finish Year 12.

Between March and June, all students who completed Year 12 last year can expect to receive instructions to complete a web-based survey or a telephone call from the Queensland Government Statistician's Office. Please encourage your child to take part. If their contact details have changed, please assist the interviewer with their updated details or forward the survey to their new address so they can participate.

Thank you for your support of the Next Step survey in 2018.

Further information on Next Step is available online at www.education.qld.gov.au/nextstep/ or on toll-free telephone 1800 068 587.

QCST Special Provisions

The QCAA recognises that some students may be affected by medical conditions, impairments or exceptional circumstances that may act as a barrier to accessing the test or demonstrating their achievement in the test. Special provisions are designed to minimise such barriers. Students who believe that they may be entitled to special provisions are asked to come to discuss their situation with me as soon as possible. Special provision applications for long-term impairments are open until Monday 21 May.

End of term QCST Practice

Our Year 12 students will sit their second full practice for the QCST at the end of this term. A Study Hall will take place for Non-QCST students and this provides a perfect opportunity to finish off this term's school work, start Term 2 work and complete any training modules e.g. Blue Dog, Cert III Early Childhood Education and Care, Cert III Information, Digital Media and Technology, Cert III Rural Operations and Diploma of Business.

NAPLAN

NAPLAN Testing for Years 3, 5, 7 and 9 will occur from Tuesday 15 to Thursday 17 May. Please note that, due to the Ipswich Show Holiday, the catch-up day for any missed exams will be Monday 21 May. More information will be provided in the future to relevant students and parents.

Reading Buddies Needed!

Reading Buddies Needed!

Mother Julie recently introduced Middle School students to The Smith Family's Student to Student (s2s) reading program.

The Smith Family's s2s is a unique and effective program that has helped many students to significantly increase their reading skills.

Buddies who have high literacy skills are matched with readers who are struggling with reading. The Smith Family will deliver free training to help you understand what a buddy does and how to best support your reader. They also supply a mobile phone and support materials to each reader and buddy.

Becoming a reading buddy with the s2s reading programs means:

- You are making a commitment to help a reader over an 18 week period by ringing them 2 to 3 times a week
- Listening to them read for at least 20 minutes each time
- The reader you are matched with is at least two years younger and attends a different school
- To protect everyone's privacy, you will only know each other's first name
- You will be supported by The Smith Family who will help you with any questions you have, or difficulties you might encounter during the program.

Buddy applications are open until Monday 19 March. Forms are to be returned to Mrs Googe in SA19.

If you would like more information on the program, including application forms, please contact me directly.

Debating and Public Speaking

Apex Debating

Colds, flus and camps – not a lot stops a WestMAC debating team! A big thank you to the team members who stepped in for others, or who stood up and spoke even when they were feeling ill.

Seven of our teams competed in Round 2 of Apex Debating this week. Congratulations to the teams who won their debates, and well done to the teams who turned up prepared and did their best.

The teams are now refining their skills, with a clear focus on developing rebuttal and presentation skills. I encourage all debaters to make sure they meet the deadlines set by their coaches, as this makes speech preparation much easier for the whole team.

The next debate is on Monday 26 March at IGGS. Teams should check with their coaches for the draw and competition times and ensure they arrive at least 15 minutes before their debate.

Lions Youth of the Year District Final

Congratulations to Year 12 student and Debating/Public Speaking Captain, Danielle Scalia on her performance at the District Final in Boonah last Sunday (11 March). The adjudicators commented on the high level of competition and the closeness of the result. Well done on a great competition, Danielle!

Last chance for Rostrum Voice of Youth

Nominations are closing on Friday 30 March for students entering in the Rostrum Voice of Youth competition. Information on topics and structure of the competition can be found at <https://www.rostrum.com.au/qld-club-list/gold-coast-central-club-27/103-qld-zone/qld-voice-of-youth/351-qld-rostrum-voice-of-youth-2017>

What did Tia Harmer (Year 12) think of the United National Queensland Youth Conference...

" the United Nations Queensland Youth Conference was an incredible opportunity offered to students from Years 9 to 12.

This year's theme was Power, Diplomacy and Influence. This theme provided some wonderful conversations and I was able to make some incredible friends! Participating in the MUN's (Model UN) was marvellous; watching some people challenge and inform others about global issues. With more than 125 diverse students attending the conference, it was one of my best school experiences!"

If you would like to know more about debating and public speaking opportunities, please contact Donna Googe, Debating/ Public Speaking Coordinator on 3013 4619 or dgooge@wmac.com.au

Equestrian

On Sunday 4 March, the WestMAC Equestrian Team competed at the Inter-School Queensland Show Jumping event hosted by Somerville House at Moggill Pony Club. On Sunday 11 March, the team competed at the Emmaus College and Springfield Anglican College Combined Training and Show Horse Event at Park Ridge Pony Club Grounds. At both events, our riders performed with distinction with several placings, including Sage Fisher-Peters' first place in the One-Meter Show Jumping event at Moggill.

Music

The WestMAC Chorale is busy preparing for the annual Proms at St Paul's concert scheduled for Friday 20 April at St Paul's Church Ipswich. This year, the Proms is delighted to welcome Australasia's finest brass band, Excelsior Band Brisbane. This promises to be a thrilling musical event, featuring choruses from two operas by Verdi, including the spectacular Grand March from Aida, and the finale to the Organ Symphony of Saint Saëns, made famous by its inclusion in the movie 'Babe'. TAS Sport Trimester 1 Round 6 and 7

A very solid fortnight of results from WestMAC over St Columban's and St John's Anglican College. Coming into our final round and having a good result will affect where all teams are placed on ladders going into the Finals.

Results and competition ladders can be found at <http://www.theassociatedschools.com.au/>

We play Ormiston College at Ormiston College this week before heading into the TAS Finals Round.

Finals in Trimester 1 will run with the following format. For Tennis and Cricket all teams that finish 1st, 3rd, 5th, 7th - they will have home finals played at WestMAC. Teams finishing 2nd, 4th, 6th and 8th - will play their finals at any of the other member TAS schools. For Basketball and Volleyball all Year 7 and Year 8 Finals will be played at St Columban's; Year 9 and Year 10 Finals will be played at Ormiston College; Senior Seconds and Firsts Finals will be played at Canterbury College.

Junior TAS Hockey and Cricket

It has been fabulous to see the improvement of all our Cricket and Hockey players over the past five weeks. A special mention to the Year 4 Red, Year 6 Red and Year 6 Navy Hockey Teams who remain undefeated with just two rounds to go. Best of luck to all teams for the remainder of the season.

TAS Trimester 2 Sign-on

Pre-season for all Trimester 2 sports have begun and trials for most Netball teams have finished. If students do not have the TAS permission form signed and appropriate Trimester 2 sports ticked, unfortunately, they will not be able to take part in any training until this is addressed by students and parents.

A reminder that Saturday 21 April will be our Trimester 2 training day from 8am to 12pm. All teams for Girls Hockey, Girls Netball, Boys Tennis and Boys Rugby will be training hard to prepare for the start of Trimester 2 on this date.
